PART III – DESCRIPTION / SPECIFICATIONS / STATEMENT OF WORK

STATEMENT OF WORK
PROFESSIONAL SERVICES FOR

NATIONAL OCEANIC AND ATMOSPHERIC ADMINISTRATION
NATIONAL MARINE FISHERIES SERVICE
WEST COAST REGION

FACILITATION SERVICES FOR YUBA SALMON FORUM

Order Performance Period: August 1, 2016 through July 31, 2018

Background: In many California watersheds, such as the Sacramento/San Joaquin Delta and tributaries, Central Valley dams block as much as 95% of historic salmonid spawning habitat. As a result, Chinook salmon and steelhead have been extirpated from approximately 5,700 miles of historic habitat in the Central Valley. In most cases the habitat remaining is of much lower quality than the habitat lost and is subject to further degradation by direct and indirect impacts of hydroelectric operations.

Non-federal, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) licensed dams account for approximately 40% of all surface water storage in the Central Valley. Sections 18 and 10(j) of the Federal Power Act (FPA) are assigned to the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), and in the case of section 18, states mandatory authorities for protecting fish. Consequently, the FPA provides a powerful vehicle for achieving fishery management and species recovery goals by reintroducing viable fish runs to historic habitat; enhancing existing runs through habitat improvements within a river basin; and the timely and safe passage of fish around hydropower projects.

Because of the unprecedented number of re-licensing of dams in California, FERC's shift to the collaborative process, and growing interest in decommissioning, NMFS faces a unique opportunity to apply our FPA conditioning authorities more comprehensively. By affording fish access to viable habitats denied for decades, a realizable potential exists to restore fish to their historic range where dams have reduced or extirpated salmonid stocks. Further, by improving flows and other key habitat components, NMFS can increase utilization of the remaining important key cold water habitat necessary for the stabilization and recovery of many stocks of wild salmonids.

The Yuba River is the setting for three contemporaneous and controversial hydropower re-licensing activities under the Federal Power Act. These re-licensing actions involve many different government and non-government parties - and there are several competing interests.

NMFS' interest is the ongoing protection and ultimate recovery of fish species listed under the federal Endangered Species Act (ESA), which are currently under its management jurisdiction. The previous 50-year water and fisheries management scheme is insufficient to facilitate recovery of ESA-listed species, and is now subject to revision. This is because of the upcoming expiration of the long term licenses previously granted to major licensees by the FERC. Re-licensing proceedings are underway to determine what new license articles, including measures for the protection of fish and other natural resources, will be put in place for the next 30-50 year licensing cycle. Due to the contentious nature of water resources management in this part of California, negotiations have been and are being established to host settlement talks and deliberations that will work toward comprehensive, multi-stakeholder resolution of issues. A professional facilitation service is required to preside over these multi-stakeholder fora.

A. Objectives: Provide contractor support for the NMFS West Coast Region's work in its activities associated with fisheries management in the Yuba River watershed. NMFS seeks professional facilitation to the Yuba

Salmon Partnership Initiative (YSPI) and various subgroups of the Yuba Salmon Partnership Initiative. As this Forum is an ongoing activity, maintaining continuity of a professional facilitator during the performance of this contract is important to group dynamics and settlement prospects. In addition, NMFS is currently addressing multiple, simultaneous FERC re-licensing proceedings as well as California Water Resources Control Board and drought related proceedings that directly impact ESA listed salmon steelhead and green sturgeon. As these stakeholder groups and their respective representatives are often the same, having consistent facilitation aides in maintaining and building relationships. Maintaining and building professional relationships is particularly critical in very controversial and high visibility proceedings where NMFS trust resources are the focus of discussions. In order to successfully resolve issues between water management activities and endangered species management, NMFS has a need for professional facilitation services.

The facilitator shall provide professional facilitation services in the Yuba Salmon Partnership Initiative and associated subgroups, and other public, stakeholder fora concerned with large water storage and hydroelectric dams, and concomitant water management activities that impact ESA listed salmon and steelhead. The contractor shall be required to provide facilitation of formal meetings, and perform such other inter-meeting coordination and communication tasks as directed by the NMFS Project Leader, and as specified in this statement of work.

B. Scope: The Contractor shall provide professional meeting facilitation and other services to carry out the following general tasks:
