Hey Josh,

Per our discussion yesterday, a revised version of the Shasta Science Work Plan is attached. I took the previous work plan and tried to "fit" it to the table of contents that we discussed. Not to confuse you but the track changes contain only my most recent revisions/suggestions while everything else is from previous versions of the work plan. There's still a lot of work to do but I think it organizes things well.

Take a look when you can and get back to me. I still think we should target a near complete draft by early/mid-next week.

Thanks,
Evan
