Not that simple, though, if/since Reclamation is claiming that our suggestions exceed what was considered in the NEPA document. To know what may exceed, and how (and if they are legitimate issues or not) would help. I think asking Janice would be a better first step than opening up the EIS. Alternatively, you could bend Lee's ear and see how much of the details he remembers when he reviewed various sections of the EIS.

Brycen,

Have you cracked open the CVP/SWP operations EIS, or chatted with Janice about the range that was considered in the NEPA process, compared to what we are proposing in the Shasta RPA adjustments? That would help address one of the many issues Reclamation has.
